

ISTP and STPP present:
Seminar Series Spaces for Theoretical Explorations

You like ideas, concepts, and theories? And do you enjoy discussing, exchanging and understanding them with others? Then this seminar series is just right for you! The seminar series offers dialogical spaces to practice theorizing together. A seminar consists of an online debate that responds to a question relevant to psychology. To facilitate a good dialogue, the seminar organizers offer small reading-discussing groups.

Call for a response #2:

How to theorize culture in psychology and how is psychological theory cultural?

Seminar date:
October 15th 2025

Seminar place and time:
